OHIO STATE IS GROUND ZERO FOR THE SPY STATE TAKEOVER OF EDUCATION

OSU MARCHING BAND'S APPLE COMMERCIAL THREATENED TO EXPOSE IBM GOAL TO CAPTURE OHIO DATA

OHIO STATE PRESIDENT MICHAEL V. DRAKE CONTINUES TO STONEWALL OHIO FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE LAWS—HIS MEMBERSHIP IN IBM-ECLIPSE-NSA SPY STATE CARTEL ALMOST CERTAIN

On Oct. 05, 2015, in response to a motion to dismiss filed by Ohio Attorney General Mike DeWine at the Ohio Supreme Court, Michael McKibben, Leader Technologies' founder and Ohio State graduate, submitted more stinging ethics evidence against Ohio State president Michael V. Drake. McKibben filed a First Amended Complaint for Writ of Mandamus. A petition for writ of mandamus is a special kind of lawsuit that any citizen can file to ask a court to order a public official to perform their statutory duty. In this case, McKibben had previously asked the Ohio Ethics Commission for Drake's required financial disclosure where Drake omitted listing his actual holdings. Drake stonewalled the Commission which forced this action.

McKibben said, "The motion to dismiss is a delay tactic. Under Ohio law, as long as Michael Drake keeps filing motions to dismiss, we are free to keep tightening the complaint with amendments on behalf of the Citizens of Ohio." McKibben continued, "President Drake's cite to dubious judicial mutual fund waiver arguments is curious. Our supporters in the Leader v. Facebook judicial corruption scandal are attacking this waiver as unconstitutional. In our case, our judges concealed their substantial Facebook stock holdings behind mutual funds without recusing themselves. Michael Drake is not a judge, so his citation of it is telling. I hope this cartel has not infected the Ohio Attorney General's office too." Ohio State officials did not return our calls for an interview. They never do.

FIG. 1—MICHAEL V. DRAKE. President, The Ohio State University, fired beloved OSU Band Director, Jon Waters, on false charges to smear Waters and protect Drake's IBM-Eclipse-NSA overlords from disturbance of their M O O C. Ohio data center takeover schemes. The band had suddenly become too identified with IBM's rival Apple. Steve Jobs had refused to cooperate with the NSA's illegal mass data collection program. Also, IBM's stock is faltering and needs M O O C to survive, according to IBM insiders.

ORIGINAL POST

(SEP. 22, 2015)—IBM ("Big Blue") has been on the march in Ohio since 2012.

Then overnight, on Jan. 12, 2014, the famed Ohio State band marched all over Big Blue with a wildly successful Apple TV commercial that went viral across the planet.

While both companies profit from the fruits of the social networking invention they stole from Ohio innovator, Leader Technologies, IBM envies Apple's success.

The university community was thrilled with the revenue and attention Ohio State received, but an inner circle of OSU administrators was livid.

Huh? Rationally, what was not to like about the publicity for Ohio State and a $30 million fee?

As it turns out, plenty. In an instant, the OSU band was upsetting the IBM apple cart in Ohio (no pun intended) by bringing unwanted attention to IBM's nemesis—Apple.

Some back story perspective is needed to understand why a small clique of OSU administrators were apparently irrationally upset with attention the band created. In reality, they were quite rational.

FIG. 2— DIRECTOR JON WATERS & THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY MARCHING BAND. On Jul. 24, 2014, Waters was fired by incoming president Michael V. Drake because his marching innovations using the Apple iPad received overnight global attention after an Apple TV ad went viral. The exploding publicity threatened BM because it shined a light on Ohio State's computer infrastructure which IBM has been secretly connecting into its global C.I.A./NSA spy state network. The prize? Manipulation of the future Ohio vote to create a permanent ruling class guided by Harvard graduates.

IBM STOLE SOCIAL NETWORKING INVENTION OF OHIO INNOVATOR LEADER TECHNOLOGIES

On Nov. 29, 2001, IBM formed The Eclipse Foundation as the vehicle to give away as "Open Source" (for free) Ohio-based Leader Technologies' social networking invention in which Leader had invested over $10 million and 145,000 man-hours to develop.

By contrast, Mark Zuckerberg testified under oath that he developed Facebook in "one to two weeks" in Jan. 2004 while taking a full class load. Truth is, IBM and The Eclipse Foundation gave Leader's innovations to Zuckerberg. All the Zuck had to do was flip the switch. Such willful lies are criminal offenses in an unbroken justice system.

IBM colluded with their chief outside counsel, law professor James P. Chandler, who was Leader's patent attorney and also national security advisor to the courts protecting Facebook. Evidence now shows that Chandler is a spy master for the NSA spy state.

On Jun. 06, 2002, Chandler took custody of a copy of Leader's invention and shuffled it out the backdoor to his cronies at IBM and The Eclipse Foundation. They knew that Leader had broken the sound barrier on "scalability;" a solution that had eluded both IBM and Microsoft for more than a decade. They were intent on stealing it to perpetuate their monopolies.

Eleven weeks later, Leader's

The feeding frenzy surrounding Leader's innovations was on. IBM illegally claimed copyrights over Leader's invention. Chandler advised IBM on the bogus copyright claims

Also in 2002, Leader Technologies showed its invention to Battelle Memorial Institute in Columbus, Ohio, which is headquartered near the Ohio State campus. Battelle stole everything that Leader presented and became a central player in the IBM spy state cartel that was gathering steam.

Battelle's Jeffrey Wadsworth and Alex R. Fischer (now Ohio State trustees) joined Battelle soon thereafter as the clean-up men. Wadsworth's signature is actually on a Leader Technologies contract from 2001 where the federal government had validated Leader's invention as a "widely deployable security system."

IBM: "FIRST OF ITS KIND TECHNOLOGY"

Since 2012, in a "first of its kind technology," IBM admitted that Ohio State is ground zero for its march to control academia and politics in Ohio.

Ironically, IBM is exploiting Ohio State's data center. They are hooking up Ohio State and the State of Ohio to their global "Big Data Social Business" network. This network is comprised of 200 client centers, 8 specialized analytics centers and 200 academic institutions.

This activity is buried in glowing Orwellian descriptions of efficiency, savings, security, modernization, enhanced user experience and engagement.

In the iPad commercial, Jon Waters' marching innovations associated Ohio State with Apple overnight. IBM's cronies at Ohio State had to stop this unwanted attention, and quickly. So, they smeared Waters and fired him.

The evident incivility and rudeness toward Waters and the band telegraphed that this was the work of outsiders.

STOP FACEBOOK PROPERTY THEFT

WILL HUMANKIND EVER LEARN? Facebook's Orwellian doublespeak about property and privacy (theft) merely repeats the eventual dehumanization of the individual under MAO's Red Star, Stalin's SOVIET Hammer & Sickle and Hitler's NAZI Swastika. Respect for the inalienable rights of each individual is a bedrock value of democracy. The members of the Facebook Cabal abuse this principle at every opportunity. They evidently believe that they deserve special privileges and are willing to lie, cheat and steal in order to treat themselves to these privileges.

ASK CONGRESS: PASS THE INVENTOR PROTECTION ACT!

EX POST FACTO MEMO TO JON WATERS AND THE OSU MARCHING BAND: NO ROOM FOR APPLE IN OHIO

The only sin of Jon Waters and the OSU Marching Band was being good at what they do.

IBM and their secret Ohio cronies clearly do not want their larger rival, Apple, to have any involvement in their Ohio takeover.

In fact, Steve Jobs had refused NSA attempts to collect user data. Apple only agreed to snoop for the NSA a year after Jobs died. Jobs' successors were not so courageous.

BAD KARMA

Anecdotaly, of the many ironies in this story of the destruction of the Fourth and Fifth Amendments, Michael McKibben's late father, James A. McKibben, was the senior engineer who built the Ohio Supercomputer Center. IBM is hooking up the State of Ohio and Ohio State systems to their global spy network at this Center. Bad karma for the criminals.

On Jul. 01, 2014, Michael V. Drake became Ohio State's president. His first official act was to fire Jon Waters on Jul. 24, 2014. Two months later, he announced the M.O.O.C. University Innovation Alliance.

STATE OF OHIO PETITION FOR WRIT FILED AGAINST MICHAEL DRAKE TO DISCLOSE HIS (IBM?) FINANCIAL HOLDINGS

On Sep. 04, 2015, Drake was served a Petition for Writ of Mandamus by the State of Ohio to produce his required public financial disclosure. He had omitted all disclosure of his holdings in an evident attempt to hide those holdings. Nevertheless, even his obscured disclosure smoked out a connection among these IBM events.

One of Bill and Hillary Clinton's longtime energy advisers, David Goldwyn, is associated with The Ford Foundation. While this association is not disclosed in Goldwyn's public biographies, it was discovered in the State Department's most recent release of Hillary's emails.

The Ford Foundation and Battelle have a long association. This means the Ohio State trustee president, Jeffrey Wadsworth, who is also CEO of Battelle, had undisclosed associations with Michael Drake before he was hired.

University Trustees are pledged to maintain impartiality when doing business on behalf of the citizens of the State of Ohio.

OHIO STATE LEADERS ARE ALL-IN WITH IBM AND ITS SPY STATE CRONIES

Either it is just an uncanny coincidence that Drake, Wadsworth, Battelle, Ohio State and the State of Ohio are all doing business with IBM, or a nefarious agenda is afoot. See previous post: OSU Band Investigation Unearths Surprise Trustee Collusion in Patent Theft.

Investigators have mapped this network of mostly undisclosed relationships. It is a criminal offense for a public official to fail to disclose a conflict of interest that he or she knows to be improper.

LEADER TECHNOLOGIES Inventor Protection Act (Proposed)

America needs to practice what it preaches.

We have no business lecturing the world about free enterprise and the rule of law, when we permit the investors in Ohio-based innovator Leader Technologies to go uncompensated for the risks they took to help invent social networking . . .

—a technology upon which the President and U.S. government now rely;

—a technology stolen by the "Facebook Cabal" who recruited the federal courts and Patent Office into their club of corruption.

Rescind. Investigate. Sanction. Certify.

Contact your representatives. Ask them to pass it.

Real American inventors need your support.

Gallup Poll: Half of Americans Say US Govt. Poses Threat
by Sharyl Attkisson

<https://sharylattkisson.com/gallup-poll-half-of-americans-say-us-govt-poses-threat/>

49% call federal government too big and powerful

More Americans willing to vote for Catholic, Jew than Muslim for president

A new Gallup poll finds that 49% of Americans believe the government poses "an immediate threat to the rights and freedoms of ordinary citizens." That figure is up substantially over the first time Gallup asked the question in 2003. At that time, less than one third of Americans said the government posed such a threat.

Today, Americans who agree that the government is an immediate threat tend voiced the theme that the federal government is too big and too powerful, a support of democratic principles. They promise to conduct themselves in a manner than instills confidence among the citizenry in the rule of law and the judicial system. These promises appear to be meaningless. Click here for a PDF version of Julie Davis' article.

OUR MISSION

American citizens must fight abuse of the constitutional right for authors and inventors to enjoy the fruits of their inventions, as a matter of matter of basic property rights and sound public policy. Otherwise, instead of innovation, creativity, genius, ideas, vision, courage, entrepreneurship, respect, property, rejuvenation, morals, ethics, values, renewal, truth, facts, rights, privacy, solutions and judicial faithfulness,

. . . our society and economy will be dragged down (and eventually destroyed) by copying, infringement, thievery, counterfeiting, hacking, greed, misinformation, exploitation, abuse, waste, disrespect, falsity, corruption, bribery, coercion, intimidation, doublespeak, misconduct, lies, deception, attorney "dark arts," destruction, confusion, dishonesty, judicial chicanery and lawlessness.

If we do not speak up, impeach derelict judges and imprison corrupt attorneys, we cannot possibly hope to start fixing the current ills in our society. Without justice and respect for private property, democracy has no sure foundation.

You either cannot read, have not been briefed by your Facebook handlers about their IBM taskmasters, or more likely, you know its all true and you're continuing to play your now predictable misdirection games. Renata Adler, On American Culture Now.

<http://onpoint.wbur.org/2015/09/29/renata-adler-new-york-new-yorker-culture-critic>

This is a very good interview by Tom Ashbrook. She focuses a laser on her concerns about the culture shift occurring right now at the hands of the emerging spy state and the inability of spies to EVER get it right. She applauds Edward Snowden for exposing this corruption. She identifies lack of statesmanship as a root cause for no vision or leadership in our culture.

There is another fundamental flaw in your logic that you are ignoring. Mark Zuckerberg owns more than 50% of the stock in Facebook. If the supposed "cartel" is putting him in as a front man, there is no possible way that they would give him superior voting rights. It makes absolutely no sense.

Now if you conceive of the idea for Facebook and then develop it--yes, of course you would have more than 50% of the shares. Occam's Razor.

Hey "Jill." This argument is so yesterday. They let the kid keep the 50+% because he is their wh__e.

You are either very naive or in on this scam. (obviously the second)

We are an opinion blog that advocates for strong intellectual property rights. We welcome commenters and contributors. The Leader v. Facebook patent infringement case first came to our attention after learning that the trial judge, Leonard P. Stark, U.S. District Court of Delaware, ignored his jury's admission that they had no evidence to support their on-sale bar verdict, but the judge supported it anyway.

The judicial misconduct has deteriorated from there, replete with two of the three judges on the Federal Circuit appeal panel, Judges Alan D. Lourie and Kimberly A. Moore, holding Facebook stock that they did not disclose to the litigants, and later tried to excuse through a quick motion slipped in at the last minute by the Clerk of Court, Jan Horbaly, and his close friends at The Federal Circuit Bar Association. (The DC Bar subsequently revealed that Mr. Horbaly is not licensed to practice law in Washington D.C.)

The judges ignored shocking new evidence that Mark Zuckerberg withheld 28 hard drives of 2003-2004 evidence from Leader Technologies that could prove actual theft (and therefore claims even more serious than infringement). In addition, Facebook's appeal attorney, Thomas G. Hungar of Gibson Dunn LLP, has close personal ties to just about every judicial player in this story. The misconduct appears to reach into the U.S. Patent Office through abuse of the reexamination process by Facebook. We will stay focused on Leader v. Facebook until justice is served, but we also welcome news and analysis of intellectual property abuse in other cases as well.

Oh please. You don't give a front man control of a company. Any college kid would have done this for 1% . The ONLY logical explanation is that Mark Zuckerberg created the site and investors then stepped in.

The facts prove that this proposition is pure Hollywood fiction--what the "narrative" wants people to believe. The fact is, Zuckerberg has been a shill from Day 1. Business Insider just sold. They helped lay down the PR of the big lie. Nicholas Carlson and David Fitzpatrick played their parts well. Nice touch when you started citing them in legal briefs.

Bribery and blackmail come in all shades in the extended Facebook family. That's how criminal enterprises roll, isn't it Jill?

Interesting how this AFI post doesn't mention Zuckerberg, yet Jill astroturner tries to deflect the comments to their worn out narrative about Zuckerberg's supposed inventorship. Even Zuckerberg calls himself a hacker and invented nothing. Venture capitalists don't normally give wet-behind-the-ears inventors control through an IPO. They will have taken over long before that time. No, they wanted Zuck to keep 50+% for their criminal purposes. Zuck no more controls the Facebook criminal enterprise than a man in the moon. He's just a prop. Jill, I am praying for you and your sick fascination with evil people.
