

Home • Briefing Room • Statements & Releases

Search WhiteHouse.gov Search

The White House

Office of the Press Secretary

E-Mail Tweet Share +

For Immediate Release

March 17, 2010

President Obama Nominates Judge Leonard Stark and Amy Totenberg to the United States District Court

WASHINGTON, DC – Today, President Obama nominated Judge Leonard Stark and Amy Totenberg to the United States District Court. Judge Stark is a nominee for the District of Delaware and Totenberg is a nominee for the Northern District of Georgia.

“Leonard Stark and Amy Totenberg are distinguished candidates for the United States District Court,” President Obama said. “They have both displayed an exceptional commitment to public service and they will be thoughtful and esteemed additions to the federal bench. I am honored to nominate them today.”

Judge Leonard P. Stark: Nominee for the United States District Court for the District of Delaware

Judge Leonard P. Stark is a United States Magistrate Judge for the District of Delaware, a position he has held since 2007. Previously, he was an Assistant United States Attorney for the District of Delaware and an associate in the Delaware office of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP. He began his legal career in Wilmington, Delaware, as a law clerk to the Honorable Walter K. Stapleton of the United States Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit. Judge Stark graduated from the University of Delaware in 1991 with three degrees: an M.A. in History, a B.S. in Economics, and a B.A. in Political Science. In 1993, he received a doctorate degree in Politics from the University of Oxford, where he studied as a Rhodes Scholar. He earned his J.D. from Yale Law School in 1996.

Amy Totenberg: Nominee for the United States District Court, Northern District of Georgia

Since 2000, Amy Totenberg has been a sole practitioner and arbitrator based in Atlanta. She serves as a special master in the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland and as a court monitor in the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. From 1994 to 1998, Totenberg served as the first in-house general counsel for the Atlanta school system. Before that, she focused on civil litigation, primarily as a sole practitioner. She also served as a part-time Municipal Court Judge for the City of Atlanta from 1988 to 1993. Totenberg received her J.D. in 1977 from Harvard Law School, and her A.B., magna cum laude, from Harvard-Radcliffe in 1974.

WHITE HOUSE SHAREABLES

VIEW OUR MOST SHAREABLE CONTENT IN ONE EASY-TO-NAVIGATE PAGE.

START SHARING

LATEST BLOG POSTS

March 21, 2014 6:30 PM EDT

West Wing Week 3/21/14 or, “24 Soldiers”

This week, the President celebrated St. Patrick's day alongside the Prime Minister of Ireland, continued to work toward a diplomatic resolution to the conflict in Ukraine, hosted Palestinian President Abbas, awarded 24 Medals of Honor, and traveled to Florida to speak on the importance of supporting working families.

March 21, 2014 6:20 PM EDT

Weekly Wrap Up: FLOTUS in China, March Madness, and More

See what you missed this week at the White House.

March 21, 2014 9:24 AM EDT

The First Lady's Travel Journal: Touring the Forbidden City

The First Lady, along with her daughters and mother, take in the Forbidden City, which is located right in the heart of Beijing.

VIEW ALL RELATED BLOG POSTS ▶

STAY CONNECTED

Facebook YouTube

Twitter Vimeo

Flickr iTunes

Google+ LinkedIn

UPDATE

We're updating the White House privacy policy, which will go into effect on April 18.

LEARN MORE

WWW.WHITEHOUSE.GOV

En español | Accessibility | Copyright Information | Privacy Policy | Contact

USA gov | Developers | Apply for a Job