- A greatly expanded Faces of the Facebook Corruption is now available for web view and download (PDF | HTML). It is full of research links to streamline investigations. It includes revelations of more Leader v. Facebook corruption and scandal within the U.S. Patent Office. Investigators have also uncovered a Federal Circuit fifth column of patent judges called A.F.L.C.T.A.C.A.F.C. (Association of Former Law Clerks and Technical Assistants for the United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit) that enables its Patent Office members to exert continuous, undue and unaccountable influence over inventors and patent policy.

NEWS FLASH, JUN. 26, 2013:

On May 29, Facebook's Best Friend, Federal Circuit Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly, one of the prime movers in the Leader v. Facebook judicial corruption scandal, retired unexpectedly. LAIPLA reacted with subdued praise, citing Leader v. Facebook as a possible catalyst. Keep pounding folks! Tellingly, both Horbaly and Supreme Court Clerk William K. Suter have retired since the Leader v. Facebook appeal. Of course, just more mere coincidences in the pantheon of Leader v. Facebook coincidences. More

CHIEF JUSTICE JOHN ROBERTS MENTORS FACEBOOK'S ATTORNEYS

Editorial: The scandals just keep coming. One wonders if the law schools at Harvard, Yale, Columbia and GW cancelled Ethics, U.S. Constitution and Human Decency 101 during the years that these people attended. Or, maybe their mamas just didn't raise them right. Who knows? Anyway...

In 1992, Chief Justice Roberts mentored Facebook's attorney, Thomas G. Hungar. Roberts also collaborated with another Gibson Dunn LLP attorney, Theodore B. Olson. None of these conflicting relationships were disclosed in Leader v. Facebook. Hungar's participation compromised both the Federal Circuit and the U.S. Supreme Court in ethics violations.

These circumstances are akin to a judge hearing a case argued by a close relative and not disclosing that relationship to the other side. Lack of disclosure is scandalous. Olson is an Obama appointee to The Administrative Conference of the United States. The "Obstruction of Justice" illustration has been update below to show these new connections to The White House. Was Roberts' Obamacare vote the quid pro quo? The mind wanders. CLICK HERE FOR MORE ON THIS STORY

Facebook information failed to disclose to a requester that she worked for White & Case LLP, one of Facebook's attorneys currently involved in the politically-motivated 3rd patent reexamination scandal. Three Facebook attorneys, Heidi Keefe, Mark Weinstein and Samuel O'Rourke worked for White & Case LLP with Siehdnel. Keefe and Weinstein went to Cooley Godward LLP and brought Facebook with them. O'Rourke went to work for Facebook (as an evidence destroyer, we believe). Keefe / White & Case is counsel of record on reexam #1. In other words, Siehdnel's former employer represents Facebook against Leader, yet Siehdnel pretended to be unbiased. This is yet more proof of the moral profligacy of the Facebook cabal. More to come.

SUPREME COURT CHIEF JUSTICE JOHN G. ROBERTS WAS MASSIVELY CONFLICTED IN LEADER V. FACEBOOK

New judicial financial disclosures reveal that the Chief Justice failed to disclose mountains of Facebook conflicts in Leader v. Facebook—companies with dubious ties to the Kremlin, U.S. bailout, and direct ties to Michael Rhodes, Facebook’s attorney (Cooley Godward LLP). [42] CLICK HERE FOR MORE ON THIS STORY

NEW EVIDENCE IMPLICATES THE WHITE HOUSE IN OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE

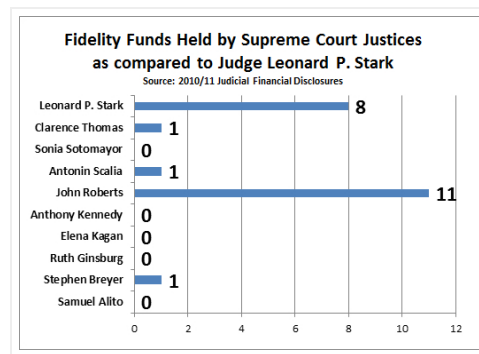

(JUN. 9, 2013)—AFI readers / investigators have just uncovered more ties between The White House and the growing Leader v. Facebook judicial corruption scandal. Click here to read the Comment. Previously suppressed and censored court documents have just surfaced that prove the Federal Circuit itself was represented by Facebook’s attorney, Thomas G. Hungar, Gibson Dunn LLP BEFORE the Leader appeal to the Federal Circuit.

The Code of Conduct for U.S. Judges [12] dictated disclosure of conflicts and disqualifications by the judges. Instead, the judges just faked impartiality as their man Hungar argued for Facebook. Click here: Document 1, [41] Document 2 [38] (see “Obstruction of Justice” illustration for context—click to enlarge).

The documents also prove that Gibson Dunn, the Federal Circuit’s law firm, suppressed the evidence of 28 Zuckerberg hard drives in Leader v. Facebook. Facebook’s other attorneys, Cooley Godward LLP, told Leader’s attorneys that the hard drives were lost. These circumstances are scandals within scandals. The Federal Circuit’s duplicity in allowing Hungar to appear before them in Leader v. Facebook is scandalous enough.

Worse, that appearance also identified Cooley Godward LLP, whose Man in The White House, Donald K. Stern, advises President Obama on Justice Department matters. Stern would have advised on the Leonard P. Stark and Evan J. Wallach appointments to federal courts, which is also scandalous. Stern is former chief legal counsel to Massachusetts Governor Michael Dukakis, who ran unsuccessfully for President against George H.W. Bush in 1988. He then became a U.S. Attorney, which makes him a contemporary of another U.S. Attorney associated with this scandal, namely Preetinder “Preet” Bharara, formerly with Gibson Dunn. Bharara is currently prosecuting Paul Ceglia in U.S. v. Ceglia over dubious criminal claims involving Zuckerberg

STOP FACEBOOK PROPERTY THEFT

WILL HUMANKIND EVER LEARN? Facebook’s Orwellian doublespeak about property and privacy (theft) merely repeats the eventual dehumanization of the individual under MAO’s Red Star, Stalin’s SOVIET Hammer & Cycle and Hitler’s NAZI Swastika. Respect for the inalienable rights of each individual is a bedrock value of democracy. The members of the Facebook Cabal abuse this principle at every opportunity. They evidently believe that they deserve special privileges and are willing to lie, cheat and steal in order to treat themselves to these privileges.

and Ceglia from 2003 (the year of the theft of Leader Technologies' source code)

NEW! JUN. 17, 2013. The last week saw remarkable changes from two attorneys and firms associated with the Leader v. Facebook case and President Obama. Donald K. Stern from Cooley Godward LLP jumped ship to a small Boston law firm in a transparent attempt to distance himself from Cooley Godward LLP and Obama. Then, "Amber H. Rovner" of Weil Gotshal, who filed a motion for the Federal Circuit Bar Association to absolve the Federal Circuit judges of their conflicts of interest in Leader v. Facebook, changed her name to "Amber L. Hagy." This move would prevent her name from appearing in searches associated with her involvement as "Amber H. Rover" in Leader v. Facebook, the Federal Circuit and Judge Kimberly A. Moore (Weil Gotshal was Judge Moore's former client—a conflict not disclosed to Leader Technologies). See Table below, Feb. 22, 2011.

Donald K. Stern, Cooley Godward LLP

Cooley Partner Donald K. Stern Named Advisor to U.S. Department of Justice Transition Team

May 1, 2013—President Obama's Justice Dept. "advisor" Donald K. Stern leaves Cooley Godward LLP to join a small law firm in Boston, just as the Leader v. Facebook judicial corruption scandal heats up.

Donald K. Stern Joins Yurko, Salvesen & Remz, P.C.
May 1, 2013 - Business litigation boutique Yurko, Salvesen & Remz, P.C. (YSR), is pleased to announce that Donald K. Stern has become Of Counsel to the firm. He brings a wealth of experience to YSR where his practice will focus on internal investigations, white collar defense and business litigation. Stern is the former United States Attorney for the District of Massachusetts, 1993-2001, where he served as the chief federal law enforcement official directing an office of close to 100 attorneys. In state government, Stern served as the chief legal counsel to Governor Michael S. Dukakis. Most recently, Stern was a member of the Litigation Department of Cooley LLP.

The evidence is now pointing to a compromised-in-toto Federal Circuit court whose motives for protecting Facebook were many, and included (1) boosting the judges' stock portfolios in the Facebook IPO; (2) protecting President Obama's 47 million "likes" on Facebook in the run-up to the election and beyond; (3) preserving the Facebook cabal's global virtual currency plan via Facebook Credits; (4) protecting the tens of billions of winnings in their Facebook IPO "pump and dump" stock scheme; (5) protecting the ability to spy on Facebook users unobstructed; (6) legitimizing Facebook's hundreds of bogus patent applications filed for them by Fenwick & West LLP (Leader's former attorney); (7) concealing pay-to-play judge nominations, and (8) concealing cooperation with foreign powers, among others.

To be investigated further are the uncanny facts that: (1) while the Zuckerberg's 28 hard drives were being concealed from Leader Technologies (and Stark was blocking further Leader discovery after he allowed Facebook to add the on-sale bar claim), on Jun. 4, 2010 Mark Zuckerberg revealed his weird "Illuminati" symbol to New York Times editor Kara Swisher, and (2) within a few months, after the Leader v. Facebook whitewash by newly-appointed Judge Leonard P. Stark, President Obama held an all hands on deck meeting of his Silicon Valley techies. Zuckerberg was, like, his wing man, dude. (Feb. 17, 2011). Evidently, the sovereignty of the Constitution and America's data was being placed into the President's personal control in that toast.

NEW, 6/6/13: ALL THREE LEADER V. FACEBOOK FEDERAL CIRCUIT JUDGES HELD STOCK IN FACEBOOK DURING THE PROCEEDINGS

(MAY 24, 2013) – Investigators have uncovered deep ties between the Obama administration and Facebook’s attorneys Cooley Godward Kronish LLP (“Cooley”). These ties should invalidate the Leader v. Facebook courts for bias, collusion and maybe RICO (if you tell someone else to do your dirty work, you are just as guilty). [1]

Consider the cover-up of four deaths at the Benghazi embassy the State Department; the targeting of the Tea Party by the IRS; the secret wiretapping of The Associated Press approved by Justice Department magistrate judge. And now, consider the corruption of the SEC and Justice Department to protect 47 million “likes” on Facebook.

FLIPPANCY TELEGRAPHS A GOVERNMENTAL CANCER

These scandals expose an arrogant administration that stops at nothing to get its way. On Wednesday, when former IRS Commissioner Douglas Shulman was asked by the House Oversight Committee why he made 118 visits to the White House, he cited an Easter Egg hunt. [2] This flippancy telegraphs a governmental cancer.

“DRIP, DRIP, DRIP.”

In such a cancerous ethical environment, bribing judges to hide Facebook’s theft of the technology that runs Facebook is just another day at the office. They expect Leader Technologies and its investors, whom they’ve cheated, to get over it, like a bad cold. What will be needed to get to the bottom of this corruption? To quote John Boehner this morning: “Drip, drip, drip.” [3]

In Leader v. Facebook, Facebook was found guilty on 11 of 11 counts of stealing Leader’s technology, and yet Facebook has sidestepped accountability, so far, with Cooley-fabricated evidence. This custom-made evidence has been excused by federal judges ever since. [4]

Now we know why. Attorney General Eric Holder and the Justice Department will direct judges to ignore the law to protect Obama and his friends. [5]

ANOTHER FEDERAL MAGISTRATE JUDGE BEHAVING BADLY

Judge Leonard P. Stark –Lied to Congress about faithfulness to precedent; abused due process; ignored Pfaff test; was rewarded by Obama with judge seat - eight days after the Leader v. Facebook

Another federal magistrate judge, Leonard P. Stark, presided over the Leader v. Facebook trial between July 19 and July 28, 2010. He had only been assigned to the case one month before trial. He replaced veteran judge Joseph Farnan, a Reagan appointee. We have just learned that Cooley attorney Donald Stern was advising the Obama Justice Department at the time. [6] Since Cooley’s attorneys were representing Facebook in Leader v. Facebook, any involvement by a Stern regarding Stark is a conflict of interest and possibly corrupt. [7]

In the month before trial, Stark was busy helping Facebook. Stark

GIBSON DUNN LLP exposed as one of the most corrupt law firms in America

Investigative Reporter Julia Davis investigates Facebook's Leader v. Facebook attorney Gibson Dunn LLP. She credits this firm with the reason why not a single Wall Street banker has gone to jail since 2008. Click here to read her article "Everybody hates whistleblowers." Examiner.com, Apr. 10, 2012. Here's an excerpt:

"Skillful manipulation of the firm's extensive media connections allows Gibson Dunn to promote their causes, while simultaneously smearing their opponents and silencing embarrassing news coverage."

This statement followed right after Davis cited Facebook's chief inside counsel in the Leader v. Facebook case, Theodore Ulyot, who appears to have helped lead the Leader v. Facebook judicial corruption. Interesting word choices associated with Gibson Dunn LLP: manipulation, smear. Attorneys swear a solemn oath to act morally, ethically, and in support of democratic principles. They promise to conduct themselves in a manner than instills confidence among the citizenry in the rule of law and the judicial system. These promises appear to be meaningless. trial. allowed Facebook to add a new on-sale bar claim. It came after the close of all discovery, and on the same day that he took over the trial. On-sale bar is polar opposite to their earlier false marking—which arrogantly claimed that Leader had no invention, but was telling the world they did. In the switcheroo, Facebook was conceding that they were infringing Leader’s patent, but this last minute flip-flop now alleged that Leader tried to sell the invention too soon.

The Federal Circuit did not apply any well-settled precedents to test whether the Facebook “substantial evidence” was anything but junk.

Junk is not “clear and convincing” evidence.

Fig. 1 - Well-accepted legal precedents were instructed to the jury, then utterly ignored by Magistrate Leonard P. Stark and the Federal Circuit in Leader v. Facebook. Neither Magistrate Judge Leonard P. Stark, nor the Federal Circuit appeals court, nor the U.S. Supreme Court, applied the customary legal tests cited above to determine whether Facebook even had any evidence, much less whether it was clear and convincing.

- ✓ Federal Circuit decisions were timed perfectly to Facebook’s pre-IPO media needs. Said that that was just “coincidence.”
- ✓ Federal Circuit clerk staffer for Clerk Jan Horbaly, Valerie White, said the judges did not have time to see motions (that was before her phone number was changed the next day and she stopped returning calls).

On-sale bar is like the tax code. Nobody understands it. Even the name “on-sale bar” sounds like a judicial honky-tonk, so it’s a playground for unscrupulous lawyers. When Judge Leonard Stark failed to use the Pfaff v. Wells Elecs., Inc. U.S. Supreme Court gold standard for testing the on-sale claims (along with other well-accepted precedents), experience litigators assumed that the Federal Circuit would fix this mistake of a newbie judge.[8]

Sadly, the borders of this Cooley Godward playground include the Federal Circuit, U.S. Supreme Court and other “high-powered” lawyers like Gibson Dunn LLP, Facebook’s appellate lawyers.

Stark blocked Leader from building defenses to the new claim. Leader could have easily presented its source code to prove the allegation was false, but Stark blocked it. Facebook did not put up a single piece of hard evidence. Instead, Stark allowed two pieces of Cooley-doctored evidence at trial. Fragments of evidence are normally not allowed to be presented in court. This so-called evidence became the centerpiece of the judicial misconduct from that point forward.

Facebook offered no expert witnesses, no source code evidence, no testimony from the third parties who supposedly received these offers, no legal proofs at all. They only had Cooley Godward’s snippets of video taken out of context, and a 60% blanked out questionnaire. Legally speaking, the Facebook decision was a whitewash by Stark; a total outlier.

In an apparent reward for handing Facebook the on-sale bar verdict, Stark was confirmed on August 5, 2010,[10] just eight days after the Leader v. Facebook trial ended.

The timing is just all too unseemly.

3. Two Policy Changes That Will Make America More Democratic (and less contentious), Dec. 21, 2012

OUR MISSION

American citizens must fight abuse of the constitutional right for authors and inventors to enjoy the fruits of their inventions, as a matter of matter of basic property rights and sound public policy. Otherwise, instead of innovation, creativity, genius, ideas, vision, courage, entrepreneurship, respect, property, rejuvenation, morals, ethics, values, renewal, truth, facts, rights, privacy, solutions and judicial faithfulness,

. . . our society and economy will be dragged down (and eventually destroyed) by copying, infringement, thievery, counterfeiting, hacking, greed, misinformation, exploitation, abuse, waste, disrespect, falsity, corruption, bribery, coercion, intimidation, doublespeak, misconduct, lies, deception, attorney "dark arts," destruction, confusion, dishonesty, judicial chicanery and lawlessness.

If we do not speak up, impeach derelict judges and imprison corrupt attorneys, we cannot possibly hope to start fixing the current ills in our society. Without justice and respect for private property, democracy has no sure foundation.

CURRENT EDITORIAL FOCUS

We are an opinion blog that advocates for strong intellectual property rights. We welcome commenters and contributors. The Leader v. Facebook patent infringement case first came to our attention after learning that the trial judge, Leonard P. Stark, U.S. District Court of Delaware, ignored his jury's admission that they had no evidence to support their on-sale bar verdict, but the judge supported it anyway.

The judicial misconduct has deteriorated from there, replete with two of the three judges on the Federal Circuit appeal panel, Judges Alan D. Lourie and Kimberly A. Moore, holding Facebook stock that they did not disclose to the litigants, and later tried to excuse through a quick motion slipped in at the last minute by the Clerk of Court, Jan Horbaly, and his close friends at The Federal Circuit Bar Association. (The DC Bar subsequently revealed that Mr. Horbaly is not licensed to practice law in Washington D.C.)

The judges ignored shocking new evidence that Mark Zuckerberg withheld 28 hard drives of 2003-2004 evidence from Leader Technologies that could prove actual theft (and therefore claims even more serious than infringement). In addition, Facebook's appeal attorney, Thomas G. Hungar of Gibson Dunn LLP, has close personal ties to just about every judicial player in this story. The misconduct appears to reach into the U.S. Patent Office through abuse of the

Jan. 20, 2010 Leader dismantled Facebook's case in the Markman Hearing. Judge Farnan's Opinion took Facebook to the woodshed. (Markman is a pivotal hearing after which one of the parties often knows they are going to lose the legal argument.)

Probable panic at The White House & Facebook. THE GRAND SCHEME WAS THREATENED BY FACEBOOK'S INCOMPETENT SHOWING AT THE MARKMAN HEARING.

Obama's tens of millions of Facebook "likes" were threatened, as was his campaign cash cow, as was his 2012 campaign mouthpiece, as was Fenwick & West's hundreds of Zuckerberg patent filings, as was James W. Breyer's grand plan to "pump and dump" Facebook stock, as was Larry Summers' plan for a new global currency using Facebook Credits, etc.

reexamination process by Facebook. We will stay focused on Leader v. Facebook until justice is served, but we also welcome news and analysis of intellectual property abuse in other cases as well.

Bottom line, too many interrelated schemes were threatened to let a little thing like American property law and due process rights stand in their way.

Cooley's Donald K. Stern went to work to save THE GRAND SCHEME.

Judicial Scandal

Code of Conduct for U.S. Judges:

"avoid all impropriety and appearance of impropriety" [12]

Matthew J. Moore joined Latham & Watkins LLP on Feb. 22, 2010. [33] Matthew Moore is the husband of Federal Circuit Judge Kimberly A. Moore (here's his bio). Judge Moore is one of the three-judge panel in Leader v. Facebook.

Latham & Watkins LLP's clients include James W. Breyer, Accel Partners LLP, Facebook's second largest shareholder.

Latham & Watkins LLP alumni include SEC Chief Counsel Thomas J. Kim. In 2008 (about one month before the so-called financial crisis), Kim granted Facebook an exemption to the 500-shareholder rule. This exemption opened the floodgates for Facebook's broker Goldman Sachs to raise $$$ billions in dubious investments from Moscow, Russia. This enabled Breyer's "pump & dump" strategy that netted Facebook insiders over $7 billion on Day 3 of the Facebook IPO alone.

During this time, Judge Moore and her husband Matthew held undisclosed Facebook stock, and were thus enriched by the Facebook IPO. Judge Moore did not disclose her Facebook holdings or disqualify herself from Leader v. Facebook. Hindsight says her silence was deafening.

In her Senate confirmation hearing, Kimberly Moore disclosed that she was an expert witness for Weil Gotshal LLP. Therefore, propriety would dictate that she disqualify herself from hearing any cases (1) handled by her husband's former or present employers, Howrey LLP or Latham & Watkins LLP, or (2) cases involving her former client, Weil Gotshal LLP. See Kimberly A. Moore Senate Confirmation Hearing, Jun. 28, 2006, p. 71. [35]

Two cases were before Judge Moore in early 2012, Leader v. Facebook and Marine Polymer v. HemCon. The Federal Circuit court records in both cases are conspicuously incomplete, but enough is available to paint a clear picture of misconduct by both Judge Moore and Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly.

In Marine Polymer, Judge Kimberly A. Moore's husband Matthew J. Moore filed an amicus curiae (friend of the court) brief for Geico Corporation on Feb. 10, 2012. One can only piece this date together by working backwards from the Decision, then finding a single clerk entry that mentions Geico, but not Matthew Moore. Normally all but sealed documents are available for public review. However, in Marine Polymer almost none of the case documents are available. The official statement is "not available for download." In fact, an entry in another part of the docket says the entire record is sealed, which is highly unusual,

CODE OF CONDUCT FOR U.S. JUDGES

"CANON 2: A JUDGE SHOULD AVOID IMPROPRIETY AND THE APPEARANCE OF IMPROPRIETY IN ALL ACTIVITIES"

GALLERY OF JUDICIAL MISCONDUCT

Judge Leonard P. Stark, U.S. District Court of Delaware, trial judge in Leader Techs, Inc. v. Facebook, Inc., 770 F. Supp. 2d 686 (D.Del. 2011). Judge Stark heard his jury foreman admit that the jury made the on-sale bar decision without any evidence other than speculation, and yet he supported that verdict anyway. Just months before trial, Judge Stark allowed Facebook to add the on-sale bar claim after the close of all fact discovery and blocked Leader from preparing its defenses to this new claim. Judge Stark allowed the claims despite Leader's prophetic argument that the action would confuse the jury and prejudice Leader. (Read Leader's May 20, 2010 motion here.) He also permitted the jury to ignore the Pfaff v. Wells Electronics, Inc. test for on-sale bar, even after instructing the jury to use it. (See that Jury Instruction No. 4.7 here.) He also contradicted his own instruction to Leader to answer especially for a case involving high profile companies (Broadcom, Cisco, Dell, Facebook, Google, Hewlett-Packard, SAP and eBay) entering Friend of the Court briefs. Normally companies want their opinions highly publicized. What is being hidden? We think it is the misconduct of the court in Leader v. Facebook.

DOCTORED FEDERAL CIRCUIT COURT RECORDS, AGAIN: The Rules require every attorney who makes an appearance in a case to formally register an appearance with the court. The court docket always lists the names of the attorneys at the beginning of the docket. However, Matthew J. Moore's entry in Marine Polymer has been REMOVED from the docket.[37] However, we know he made an entry because he is identified in the decision. The evident attempt here is to obscure his association with Judge Kimberly A. Moore and Latham & Watkins LLP, and conceal misconduct, in our opinion. If one were to do a job assessment of Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly, based solely on his clerking in Leader v. Facebook and Marine Polymer, one would have to conclude that he is utterly incompetent... but, we don't think he's incompetent.

Marine Polymer reveals something equally as startling. Edward R. Reines, Weil Gotshal LLP filed amicus curiae briefs for Broadcom, Cisco, Dell, Facebook, Google, Hewlett-Packard, SAP and eBay.

Judge Moore disqualified herself in Marine Polymer merely because of her relationship to her husband, Matthew. (We surmise. The Clerk even sealed her disqualification filing.)

However, Judge Moore did not disqualify herself in Leader v. Facebook, even in the face of egregious conflicts, including:

1. She held stock in Facebook via her holdings in Fidelity Contrafund, whose Facebook holdings were notoriously known (in other words, what was good for Facebook was good for her and husband);
2. Her former client, Weil Gotshal LLP, made an appearance adverse to Leader Technologies in Leader v. Facebook, an appearance that was never docketed, but is viewable here (in other words, what was good for Weil Gotshal was good for Facebook, and was therefore good for her and husband);[34]
3. Her former client, Weil Gotshal, LLP, was Facebook's attorney in Marine Polymer (again, what was good for her former client, was good for Facebook, and was therefore good for her and husband);
4. Her husband, Matthew J. Moore, appeared in the Marine Polymer case representing Latham & Watkins LLP in amicus curiae interests that were aligned with Facebook (in other words, what was good for Facebook, was good for her former client, and was therefore good for her and husband);
5. Latham & Watkins LLP, her husband's firm, was counsel to James W. Breyer and Accel Partners, Facebook's director and second largest shareholder (in other words, what was good for Facebook, was good for Accel Partners, was good for James W. Breyer, was good for Latham & Watkins LLP, was good for her former client, and was therefore good for her and husband).

Perhaps one infraction in isolation might be forgiven, but together . . .

Interrogatory No. 9 in the present tense (2009), then permitted the jury to interpret it as a 2002 admission as well. See his Sep. 14, 2009 Order. Facebook's entire on-sale bar case is based upon this interrogatory. (Editorial: Hardly sufficient to meet the "heavy burden" of the clear and convincing evidence standard.)

Judge Alan D. Lourie, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, panel judge in Leader Techs v. Facebook, Inc., 678 F.3d 1300 (Fed. Cir. 2012). Judge Lourie stood to benefit financially from undisclosed holdings in Facebook. See analysis of Judge Lourie's T. Rowe Price holdings re. the Facebook IPO. Judge Lourie also failed to apply his own law-test in Group One v. Hallmark Cards to the evidence. After debunking all of Facebook's evidence on appeal, Judge Lourie created new argument in the secrecy of chambers to support Facebook and prevent the on-sale bar verdict from being overturned—a clear breach of constitutional due process.

Judge Kimberly A. Moore, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, panel judge in Leader Techs v. Facebook, Inc., 678 F.3d 1300 (Fed. Cir. 2012). Judge Moore stood to benefit financially from undisclosed holdings in Facebook. See disclosure of substantial holdings in Facebook and Facebook-related stocks. Judge Moore failed to follow the long-held precedent for testing on-sale bar evidence in Pfaff v. Wells Electronics, Inc.—an evident and intentional omission coming from a former patent law professor. After debunking all of Facebook's evidence on appeal, Judge Moore created new argument in the secrecy of chambers to support Facebook and prevent the on-sale bar verdict from being overturned

What judge candidate Kimberly A. Moore promised Congress on Jun. 28, 2006

I will faithfully follow all applicable statutes, court decisions, and policies regarding recusal, including 28 U.S.C. 455. I will be particularly sensitive to any matters involving law firms or companies I previously advised as an expert, as well as any matters involving the Howrey law firm, where my husband is an equity partner. In all circumstances, I will adhere to the Code of Conduct for United States Judges.

What Judge Kimberly A. Moore did on Jul. 16, 2012

- Failed to disclose Facebook holdings (re. 28 USC 455)
- Failed to disclose prior work with Weil Gotschal LLP
- Failed to disclose husband's conflicting associations with Facebook in Latham & Watkins LLP

S. HRG. 109-397, Pt 5, p. 74.

These breaches do not even address Judge Moore's promise to be faithful to the U.S. Constitution and legal precedent; which she did not follow by ignoring Pfaff, Carr, Group One, etc.

—a clear breach of constitutional due process.

Judge Evan J. Wallach, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, member of the three-judge panel in Leader Techs v. Facebook, Inc., 678 F.3d 1300 (Fed. Cir. 2012).

Judge Wallach is not a patent attorney. This begs the question as to why a judge with no knowledge of patent law was assigned to the case. Would anyone ask a dentist to perform brain surgery? The Federal Circuit was specially formed to appoint patent-knowledgeable judges to patent cases. There is no evidence so far in the judicial disclosures that Judge Wallach holds stock in Facebook, although when he was asked on a motion to disclose potential Facebook holdings and other conflicts of interest, he refused along with the other judges. See Motion to Disclose Conflicts of Interest.

Judge Wallach continued in silence even after Clerk of Court

Horbaly failed to provide him with Dr. Lakshmi Arunachalam's motions (according to his Federal Circuit staffer Valeri White), and yet the Clerk signed an order regarding that motion on Judge Wallach's behalf. See a full analysis of these events at Donna Kline Now! Judge Wallach also failed to police his court's violation of Leader's Fifth and 14th Amendment constitutional right to due process when he participated in the fabrication of new arguments and evidence for Facebook in the secrecy of judge's chambers after he had just invalidated Facebook's sole remaining item of evidence (using disbelieved testimony as ostensible evidence of an opposite). Judge Wallach also failed to police his court when he failed to apply the Supreme Court's Pfaff v. Wells Electronics, Inc. test for on-sale bar evidence, which included even the Federal Circuit's own Group One v. Hallmark Cards, Inc. test—a test which Judge Lourie should have advised Judge Wallach to follow since Judge Lourie helped write that opinion. Group One test omission analysis.

New! Jun. 6, 2013 - All three judges held Facebook stock during Leader v. Facebook:

The Federal Circuit three-judge panel in Leader v. Facebook included Judge Evan J. Wallach. Wallach has absolutely no patent experience, so why is he presiding over a patent case? Judge Wallach was nominated by Barack Obama. More protection for Obama's 47 million Facebook "likes?" This becomes evident now that proof has emerged that Wallach held Facebook stock, just like Judge Kimberly A. Moore and Judge Alan D. Lourie, during the proceedings. [36] The Wallach Senate confirmation information is on pages pp. III, IV, VII, 1, 6, 7, 9-91. Judge Wallach's wife Dr. Katherine Tobin has been well taken care of by Obama and his allies, but most especially by Senator Harry Reid. What's good for Facebook is good for Harry, and is therefore good for Wallach and his wife.

Wallach gave this testimony and was appointed to the Federal Circuit during the Leader v. Facebook proceedings. Was his cooperation in The Grand Scheme his price of appointment by Obama, just like Leonard P. Stark?

Just obtained Congressional records prove that all three Leader v. Facebook judges held Facebook stock

Evan J. Wallach holds Fidelity Contrafund whose Facebook holdings are notoriously known.

What judge candidate Evan J. Wallach promised Congress on Sep. 11, 2011 (p. 84):

- b. Explain how you will resolve any potential conflict of interest, including the procedure you will follow in determining these areas of concern.

In my present position, I always review a case assigned to me to determine if a potential conflict exists, by adhering to 28 U.S.C. § 455, other relevant statutes, the Code of Conduct for United States Judges, and any applicable policies and procedures of the United States Courts and of the United States Court of International Trade. If a conflict is evident I will recuse myself. If there is a potential for conflict I advise counsel and discuss recusal on the record. If confirmed for this position I will observe the same practice.

It gets worse folks...

Evan J. Wallach has an extensive professional relationship with Terence P. Stewart.

Stewart argued four cases before Judge Wallach at the Court of International Trade between 2004-2007. The cases were:

1. NSK LTD. v. US, 346 F. Supp. 2d 1312 (2004);
2. SKF USA INC. v. US, 316 F. Supp. 2d 1322 (2004);
3. NSK LTD. v. US, 481 F. 3d 1355 (2007); and
4. PS CHEZ SIDNEY v. US INTERN. TRADE COM'N., 502 F. Supp. 2d 1318 (2007)

By Aug. 3, 2010 (see illustration below), Terence P. Stewart was Vice President of the Federal Circuit Bar Association (FCBA). This placed Stewart in a position to influence Judge Wallach's nomination to the Federal Circuit JUST A MONTH LATER. Ironically, only four days after the Leader v. Facebook trial, Edward R. Reines, Weil Gotshal LLP (Judge Kimberly A. Moore's former client), joined Stewart and Thomas G. Hungar, Gibson Dunn LLP, Facebook's appeals counsel in Leader v. Facebook, in an amicus curiae brief in support of Federal Circuit Judge Randall R. Rader fight not to be disqualified from hearing a case.[38]

Chief Judge Randall R. Rader should have recused the entire Court, or disqualified, Thomas G. Hungar, Gibson Dunn LLP, from arguing Facebook's case—due to the court's attorney-client relationship with Hungar and Gibson Dunn

(Note to AFI investigators: Amber H. Rovner is very evidently attempting to distance herself from her longtime association with Weil Gotshal LLP—Judge Kimberly A. Moore's former client. What she has done will prevent her name from appearing in normal searches using her "H. ROVER" middle and last name. Therefore, when you search, be sure to search "Amber H. Rovner" OR "Amber Hatfield" OR "Amber L. Hagy". We have seen this trick before where attorneys in this case change their names to avoid being detected in searches. Fenwick & West LLP's attorney "Christopher P. King" changed his name on Facebook filings to "Christopher-Charles King." This way, his name would not appear anywhere associated to Leader Technologies' U.S. Patent No. 7,139,761, which Christopher P. King does (associated with two Marc Andreessen patents in 2005). This association proves "inequitable conduct"—FRAUD—by Fenwick & West LLP at the U.S. Patent Office—a fact that the Patent Office is ignoring.)

Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, clerk who signed all the opinions in Leader Techs v. Facebook, Inc., 678 F.3d 1300 (Fed. Cir. 2012). Clerk Horbaly and his staff obfuscated when the court's ruling was challenged by an amicus curiae brief revealing clear mistakes of law and new evidence. See analysis of the misconduct and misrepresentations within the Federal Circuit Clerk of Court in Leader v. Facebook. Mr. Horbaly failed to disclose his conflicts of interest and close associations with numerous Facebook attorneys and law firms, as well as his close association with one of Facebook's largest shareholders, Microsoft, who is a Director of The Federal Circuit Bar Association where Mr. Horbaly is an ex officio officer. Additionally, the DC Bar revealed in a written statement that Clerk Horbaly is not licensed to practice law in the District of Columbia. [Editorial: What does that make the Federal Circuit with its location within in a stone's throw of the White House? A self-governing state?]

Judge Randall R. Rader, U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, chief judge responsible for the (mis)conduct of his judges and Clerk of Court in Leader Techs v. Facebook, Inc., 678 F.3d 1300 (Fed. Cir. 2012). Judge Kimberly A. Moore was an expert consultant to Weil Gotshal before becoming a Federal Circuit judge. We're guessing we'll discover that Amber was involved in those cases. Judge Moore did not disclose this conflict of interest. This circumstance is strong motivation for Weil Gotshal and the Federal Circuit to bury this connection to hide their misconduct. Thanks to AFI investigators for uncovering this information which is very damning to the Federal Circuit and Facebook's conduct.

MORE SINS OF THE FEDERAL CIRCUIT

UPDATE JUN. 18, 2013—As expected, AFI researchers have discovered a direct connection between Amber H. Rovner, Weil Gotshal LLP, and Judge Kimberly A. Moore.

In her Senate Confirmation, Moore disclosed that Weil Gotshal LLP was her client and identified a case, In Seagate Tech LLC v. Cornice, Inc. (D.Del. 04-418(SLR)). It turns out that at least two of the Weil Gotshal patent litigation partners on that case, namely Jason D. Kipnis & Adrian Percer, work with Amber H. Rovner, a.k.a. Amber L. Hagy a.k.a. Amber Hatfield, currently. This conflict meant that Judge Moore had a solemn duty to speak up about the conflict.[49] The rule in colloquial terms is, if it walks like a duck, and talks like a duck . . . recuse. Judge Moore clearly cheated lady justice and Leader Technologies' shareholders who counted on her to judge rightly. She pumped her Fidelity stock portfolio instead.

represented and/or had conflicting relationships with: (1) the FCBA, (2) the judges and (3) Facebook and Microsoft, BEFORE the Leader v. Facebook appeal was filed.

What does this mean? It means the entire Federal Circuit court compromised itself in Leader v. Facebook. They did not disqualify themselves according to the Code of Conduct for U.S. Judges and Judicial Employees.

New evidence suggests that the U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John G. Roberts was also conflicted via massive amounts of Facebook-related stock holdings just release for public review.[42]

A year later, Thomas Hungar represented Facebook in Leader v. Facebook in arguments before the Federal Circuit in 2011/2012. The judges just smiled and pretended to act impartially.

Remarkably, the Aug. 3, 2010 amicus curiae motion containing this Thomas G. Hungar Certificate of Service (above) is not available on the Federal Circuit docket. Yet another damning piece of information has been removed from a Federal Circuit docket. Censorship of court records is illegal. They are supposed to be published unless they are sealed for a proper purpose.

Protecting judges from the consequences of their misconduct is not a proper purpose. Instead, it was discovered on the PatentlyO website.[38] Also remarkably, no attorneys associated with this motion are entered in the docket, which is required by the Rules of Federal Procedure. This docket too, like the Leader v. Facebook and Marine Polymers dockets, fails to show proper entries for Matthew J. Moore, Thomas G. Hungar, Terence P. Stewart, Edward R. Reines, Amber H. Rovner, Reeve T. Bull, Gibson Dunn LLP, or Weil Gotshal LLP. However, after discovering their motion at PatentlyO, we were able to piece the story back together; thus proving the duplicity of the court.[39]

Put simply, the ethics rules demanded that the court address the conflicts of interest issues in this case—before proceeding. They were not only silent, but when motions were filed asking them to disclose their conflicts of interest, they failed to even respond or docket those motions. In short, they put themselves above the law.

Here is the cast of characters in Leader v. Facebook. We encourage you to report their corrupt activities to this site and others, like Lawless America. Vigilance. We will expose them. See Congressional Briefings (currently being updated after Scribd censored the documents on Fri. Mar. 7, 2014).

A. Facebook's law firms:

1. Fenwick & West LLP (Facebook securities and patent law firm; former Leader Technologies counsel; attempted an appearance in Leader v. Facebook; did not seek conflicts waiver from Leader prior to representing Facebook)
2. Cooley Godward LLP (Facebook law firm in Leader v. Facebook;

No collusion hangs together perfectly. For example, Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly's staffer, Valerie White, [40] told a caller that the judges could not have even seen the amicus curiae briefs in Leader v. Facebook before they were denied within hours of being received. They were presumably dispensed with by Clerk Horbaly acting unilaterally. Ms. White's phone extension at the Federal Circuit office was disconnected the next day.

The illustration above is proof that the three-judge panel failed to recuse themselves, or alternatively, failed to insist that Facebook appoint an attorney other than Thomas G. Hungar and Gibson Dunn LLP. Even then, that would not have been enough. The FCBA motion and entry of Weil Gotshal and Edward Reines dictated that Judges Moore, Wallach, Lourie, Rader, all the en banc judges, as well as Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly recuse. Instead, they were silent on the constitution, but went out of their way to accommodate Facebook's pre-IPO needs with decisions perfectly timed to Facebook's IPO schedule. Of course, they would since all three judges wanted the boost in their stock portfolios that Facebook's handlers promised as the quid pro quo.

FACEBOOK ATTORNEYS like to change their names during litigation

Jun. 17, 2013—Weil Gotshal LLP's Amber H. Rovner just changed her name to Amber L. Hagy to thwart searches that will tie her to Weil Gotshal LLP and Judge Kimberly A. Moore. Likewise . . .

On Jul. 24, 2009 Fenwick & West LLP's attorney Christopher P. King filed a prior art disclosure for Facebook Director Marc Andreessen acknowledging Leader's U.S. Patent No. 7,139,761 as PRIOR ART. However, subsequently the same Fenwick & West LLP failed to disclose U.S. Pat. No. 7,139,761 as prior art on any of Facebook/Zuckerberg's hundreds of patent filings. Since Facebook was found guilty on 11 of 11 counts of literally infringing Leader's patent, this is a profound breach of the prior art disclosure rules. The fact that Christopher P. King knew about Leader makes it KNOWING and WILLFUL.

(Editorial: Disbarment and prosecution should be in their futures.)

Code of Conduct Sins:

1. When Stewart, as President of the FCBA—Wallach's new bar association, filed the 2012 motion adverse to Leader, Judge Wallach should have disqualified himself, but did not. Instead, he was silent about his conflicting relationship to Stewart.
2. When Stewart and the FCBA hired Edward R. Reines, Weil Gotshal LLP—Judge Moore's former client, Judge Moore should have disqualified herself, but did not. She was silent about her conflicting relationship to Weil Gotshal.
3. Judge Moore, while presiding over Leader v. Facebook, failed to disclose that Thomas Hungar, Gibson Dunn LLP—Facebook's counsel, represented the FCBA—her bar association, on the subject of judge recusal, in conjunction Weil Gotshal LLP, her former client.
4. Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly failed to disclose that he is an officer at the FCBA, and that one of his FCBA directors is Microsoft, one of Facebook's largest shareholders (this explains all the squirrely docket entries in this and other cases involving these actors).
5. Neither Judges Randall R. Rader, Kimberly A. Moore, Evan J. Wallach, Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly nor the entire en banc Federal Circuit court disclosed their attorney-client relationship with Thomas G. Hungar, Gibson Dunn LLP. This set of conflicts is inexcusable and shows the court to be ethically profligate.

Instead, the highly-conflicted three-judge panel of Alan D. Lourie, Kimberly A. Moore and Evan J. Wallach put on a charade of objectivity; listening as Thomas G. Hungar fumbled and stumbled through his Facebook arguments. Former Bloomberg TV journalist Donna Kline attended the hearing on March 5, 2012 and reported that Hungar did a bad job and she overheard him apologizing to a Facebook attorney Jeffrey Norberg. Nonetheless, the judges pretended impartiality. Then,

b. Do you think that the interpretation of the Constitution should change based on evolving societal norms?
 Response: The interpretation of the Constitution is governed by the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals. In my current position as a United States Magistrate Judge, and in the future if confirmed as a District Court Judge, my obligation is to follow the binding precedents of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals.

c. Do you believe the Constitution is a living document?
 Response: No. The text of the Constitution is fixed (absent amendment through the Article V amendment process).

d. What in your view is the role of a judge?
 Response: I believe the role of a District Court Judge is to apply the precedents of the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals to the facts of the particular case before the judge, as carefully and impartially—and in as timely a manner—as humanly possible. This is what I have strived to

Scandal

Magistrate Judge Leonard P. Stark was ERIC HOLDER'S MAN assigned to protect Obama's 47 million "likes" on Facebook: Facebook filed new on-sale bar claim (102(b)). Leader objected. Stark overruled and allowed Facebook to pursue the new claim while denying Leader the right to prepare defenses. No hard evidence supported Facebook. Scandalously, Stark affirmed only a Cooley-fabricated video snippet taken out of context and a single 60% blanked-out questionnaire. Not a single piece of engineering evidence was presented. Facebook did not even present an expert witness! Nothing. Nada. Zilch. (Editorial: Herein is perhaps the most telling proof of collusion. The verdict for Facebook was predetermined, so the lack of proof didn't matter.)

Stark abused Leader's Fifth and Fourteenth Amendment due process rights. Leader had a constitutional right to prepare new defenses to Facebook's new claim (which flip-flopped from a pre-trial "false marking" claim that Leader had no patent to, OK, Leader has a valid patent and tried to sell it too soon—on-sale bar).[31]

Stark also abused judicial discretion. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 15(a)(2) dictate that late-stage claims can only be made "with the opposing party's written consent or the court's leave. The court should freely give leave when justice so requires." Justice did not

|---|---|
| | require abusing Leader's due process rights to help Facebook. In short, Stark blocked Leader from preparing a defense with additional evidence, expert witnesses, source code, third party testimony, etc. Pfaff and Group One specified a detailed analysis of alleged offers. None of that happened.[32] |
| | Stark promised Congress to decide ". . . carefully and impartially." He deceived Congress in his Grand Bargain with Obama and Cooley Godward in exchange for his appointment. |
| 3 weeks before trial . . . | |
| Jun. 24, 2010 The Grand Bargain | Judge Farnan withdraws suddenly as presiding trial judge. Judge Leonard P. Stark assigned. Cooley's Donald K. Stern certainly is involved in this decision since (a) he is Obama's Justice Department advisor, and (b) the judge seat is in Vice President Joe Biden's State of Delaware where he has been blocking Republican nominees for years. |
| | Judge Stark allowed Facebook to amend their claims and add on-sale bar; Judge Stark blocked Leader from conducting additional discovery. The Grand Bargain to gain his judgeship from Obama? |
| Jul. 19-28, 2010 | Leader v. Facebook trial. Split verdict. Facebook guilty on 11 of 11 counts, and Leader's expert witness decimated Facebook's prior art arguments.[43] Despite the overwhelming proof of the opposite, Facebook prevailed on a single portion of the decision in which the jury admitted that they did not follow the jury instructions or precedent law for the proper testing of on-sale bar claims. Tellingly, Judge Stark heard this admission, yet forbade the attorneys from using this admission in their post trial pleadings. [44] |
| 8 days later | |
| Aug. 5, 2010 | Leonard P. Stark confirmed as U.S. federal judge. Refuses to overturn the jury on on-sale bar in post-trial motions. Fails to follow well-settled precedent law for assessing on-sale bar. Pfaff, Group One, Carr, The Dictionary Act. In short, the split decision stands. In short, Facebook is using Leader's invention. And, Facebook failed to offer any evidence of on-sale bar, yet was supported by Judge Leonard P. Stark nonetheless.[44] |

Do the circumstances above "avoid the appearance of impropriety in all actions" as dictated by the Code of Conduct for U.S. Judges[12] and Judicial Employees?[13]

IN EXCHANGE FOR DELIVERING FACEBOOK'S ON-SALE BAR VERDICT, LEONARD P. STARK WAS REWARDED A JUDGESHIP . . . IN VP JOE BIDEN'S DISTRICT

Evidently Stark was rewarded for protecting Obama's "likes" on Facebook. Pundits thought the Federal Circuit would fix Stark's mistake, but they waved their hands too. The appeals process was a total fraud which we have analyzed extensively.

DOES OBAMA COVET HIS 47+ MILLION "LIKES" SO MUCH HE'LL BREAK THE LAW TO KEEP THEM?

President and Michelle Obama have over 47 million "likes" on Facebook from which he makes money. In addition to his salary and perks as President, Organizing for Action raised $4.8 million[14] in the first three months of 2013 with the help of his "share," "like," "join" and "sign" Facebook solicitations. In the last two months, he has posted more than once a day on his Barack Obama Facebook page.[15] The majority of these posts contain his picture. What politician in history has had such an opportunity? Is this reach like a drug to which Obama

Obama posts a picture of himself on 70% of his Facebook posts, averaging 1.3 posts per day, along with calls to action for his 47 million followers

C. Facebook puppet masters:

- 69. President Barack Obama (appointed Leonard P. Stark to the judge's seat in Delaware Federal District Court eight days after Stark's court allowed Facebook to get away with jury and court manipulation of an on-sale bar verdict which was attained without a single piece of hard evidence; Barack and Michelle Obama were evidently protecting their 47 million "likes" on Facebook)
- 70. Lawrence "Larry" Summers (Harvard President who aided Zuckerberg's light-speed rise to prominence with unprecedented Harvard Crimson coverage; Obama bailout chief; Clinton Treasury Secretary; World Bank Chief Economist; "Special Advisor" to Marc Andreessen in Instagram; co-creator of the current Russian robber baron economy; close 20-year relationships with protégés Sheryl Sandberg & Yuri Milner; aided in recommendations that created the Russian robber baron economy—and Yuri Milner/DST/Asmanov's money used to purchase Facebook stock)
- 71. James W. Breyer, Accel Partners LLP; Facebook director; client of Fenwick & West LLP since the 1990's; apparently received technology from other Fenwick clients that was shuffled to Zuckerberg, incl. Leader Technologies' inventions)
- 72. David Plouffe; directed Obama's 2008 and 2012 campaigns; a self-described "statistics nerd;" likely directed the activities of the Facebook Club; employed Robert F. Bauer, Perkins Coii LLP in 2000 at the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee
- 73. McBee Strategic (one of the main "private" arms responsible for doling out the billions in Obama "green energy" stimulus funds; partnered with Cooley Godward LLP)
- 74. Mike Sheehy (Cooley-McBee Strategic principal; former National Security Adviser to House Speaker Nancy Pelosi)
- 75. Nancy Pelosi (U.S. Congresswoman; appears to be running political cover in the House for Facebook, McBee Strategic, Cooley Godward, Fenwick & West, Breyers, etc.)

and his handlers are addicted?

incl. "like," "share," "sign," "join," and "donate." No politician in history has had such reach.

By comparison, Facebook "likes" as of mid-May 2013: Mitt Romney 11 million, George W. Bush 3.5 million, Fox News 3 million, Bill & Hillary Clinton 1.4 million, CBS News 880,000, Joe Biden 575,000, and John Boehner 373,000.

COOLEY GODWARD LLP: CONSIGLIERES (MOB COUNSEL) FOR THE WHITE HOUSE?

Besides Obama's evident motive to protect his 47 million Facebook "likes," the Federal Election Commission[16] reports that 62 Cooley Godward attorneys donated almost $100,000 to the Obama campaign during the 2012 election. Two more donated to Organizing for Action. [17] That makes a total of 64 Cooley employees who paid to play in Obama's sandbox.

Two of those donating attorneys, Cooley's Michael Rhodes and Elizabeth Stameshkin, are Facebook's attorneys in Leader v. Facebook. New information reveals that Michael Rhodes[18] was also Cooley lead counsel for Tesla Motors, the recipient of $465 million in Obama "green energy" stimulus funds. His hiring at Tesla Motors occurred five months before the Leader v. Facebook trial, and two months before magistrate judge Leonard P. Stark allowed Facebook to add the new on-sale bar claim after the close of discovery and block Leader from building defenses.

Michael Rhodes
Cooley Godward LLP
Bag Man?

What kind of access did Cooley's Rhodes have to the $645 million in Tesla Motors funds? Was this his slush fund for buying judicial employees and judges?

Two other donating attorneys, Cooley's Ronald Lemieux and Roel Campos, are very well connected. Lemieux is directly associated with Cooley's Heidi Keefe and Mark Weinstein, two more Leader v. Facebook attorneys, in Cooley-China. [19] Investigators have learned that Facebook's director and financier James W. Breyer and Accel Partners LLP are shifting portions of their post-Facebook-IPO tens of billions of dollars to China, alongside John P. Breyer, James W's father, and IDG Capital Partners where James W is also a partner. AFI first broke the news of the identity of James W. Breyer's father which does not appear in any of his public biographies. His father has been quietly building a financial empire in China for 20 years.

Cooley's Roel Campos[20] is more interesting. He only recently left Cooley. He is a former Securities & Exchange Commissioner who presided over the Facebook 12(g) exemption from the 500-shareholder rule. His SEC Chief Counsel was Thomas J. Kim, who failed to disclose that he worked for James W. Breyer's lobbying firm Latham & Watkins LLP when Breyer ran the National Venture Capital Association 2003-2004. These were the same years Zuckerberg / Facebook / Fenwick & West's theft of Leader's technology occurred. We wrote about this earlier in our post The Real Facebook, A Portrait of Corruption.

This exemption was used by Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley and State Street Corporation and opened the door for a private market in Facebook stock that raised billions of dollars from Russian oligarchs with ties to the Kremlin. [21] This exemption also pumped Facebook's pre-IPO value to $100 billion. These banks received $32 billion in bank bailout funds overseen by Lawrence "Larry" Summers, Obama's bailout chief.

Curiously, Summers failed to disclose to the American public when he took that job that two of his protégés, Yuri Milner and Sheryl Sandberg, were Goldman clients and were running DST-Moscow and Facebook respectively. Such duplicity is illegal when not disclosed. In other words, if a party sits on both sides of a transaction (his friends decide who gets the money,

Bottom line is that Cooley's Roel Campos did the bidding of former U.S. Treasury Secretary Larry Summers who was working on ways to get (a) bailout funds, (b) stimulus funds and (c) "pump & dump" IPO funds to his protégés in Palo Alto (Sandberg) and Moscow (Milner)—a triple dip. This redefines the verb "fleece."

With Summers in the picture, any Obama assistance or involvement in Facebook is a conflict of interest by definition. But, as we have just seen with Obama's directive to Eric Holder not to enforce the Defense of Marriage Act, this administration apparently believes the U.S. Constitution is simply a pay-to-play prop to fool the masses. What happened to Obama's oath to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, so help me God?"

COOLEY'S DONALD STERN ADVISES THE OBAMA JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

Another donating attorney, Cooley's Donald Stern,[22] was a member of Obama's Department of Justice transition team. Such a Cooley insider is only ever one step away from undue influence and corruption. At this point, can any reasonable person believe the line was not crossed?

COOLEY'S MCBEE STRATEGIC ALLIANCE DISPENSED OBAMA'S "GREEN" STIMULUS BILLIONS TO SOLYNDRA AND BRIGHTSOURCE THAT BLEW THREW $2 BILLION BETWEEN THEM

Two more donating attorneys, Cooley's Tom Amis and Erich Veitenheimer, represent Cooley in the Cooley-McBee Strategic[23] alliance formed to help companies obtain Obama's "green energy" stimulus funds. This alliance occurred during the Leader v. Facebook case too. Cooley and McBee funneled Obama-stimulus funds[24] to Solyndra ($535 million)[25] and BrightSource ($1.6 billion).[26] That money is all spent. Where did it go? Dubai? British Virgin Islands? Beijing? Bangalore? Cayman Islands? A more interesting question is how many Leader v. Facebook judges, judicial employees, their families and friends have their names on these accounts? What politicians are on the take too?

COOLEY-MCBEE STRATEGIC'S MIKE SHEEHY LOBBIED FOR BRIGHTSOURCE AND WORKED FOR NANCY PELOSI

The tangled web gets worse. McBee Strategic disclosed that one of its lobbying agents for BrightSource is Mike Sheehy.[27] Sheehy was Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi's National Security Adviser for six years prior to joining McBee in March 2009.

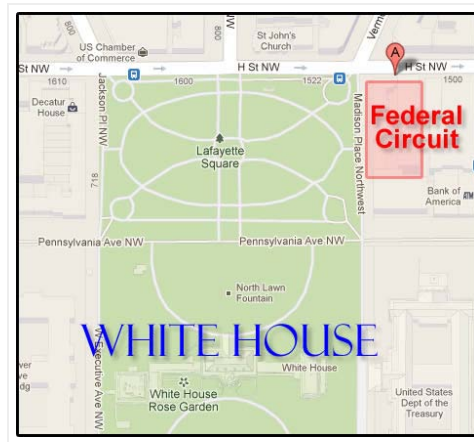

DID COOLEY'S DONALD STERN JUSTICE DEPARTMENT ADVISER "HAVE AN UNDERSTANDING" REGARDING STARK'S PROSPECTIVE JUDGE SEAT RE. THE LEADER V. FACEBOOK OUTCOME?

Bottom line, Michael Rhodes, Facebook's lead attorney in Leader v. Facebook, was a heartbeat away from the Executive Branch and Department of Justice "transition" team during the Leader v. Facebook proceedings. Judge appointments, including Leonard P. Stark, were on the agenda. Was Stark given a choice to rule for Facebook no matter what, or kiss his appointment goodbye since Cooley had their man, Donald Stern, in the White House calling these shots?

On May 1, 2013, just a few weeks ago, about the time his name surfaced as a key player in this judicial corruption scandal, Stern unceremoniously left Cooley and joined Yurko, Salvesen & Remz, P.C. as "Of Counsel." This means that he was in such a hurry to leave Cooley that he did not have time to negotiate a partner agreement with Yurko, which is a very small Boston law firm. This is an extremely odd move for such a prominent attorney with a fat Rolodex.[\[47\]](#)

Veteran Judge Joseph Farnan appears to have been forced into retirement one (1) month before trial so that Stark/Cooley could take over the proceedings. Those close to the case say Farnan had told the attorneys he was looking forward to the trial, then suddenly, he was sidelined after carrying the ball right up to the brink of trial.

Like lemmings, the Federal Circuit appeals court judges, their clerk, then the U.S. Supreme Court followed suit. Judicial financial reports reveal that two of the three judge Federal Circuit panel held stock in Facebook during the proceedings. These judges had a direct financial interest in decision favorable to Facebook. At this point Cooley and Facebook's other handlers were sending a signal to a shocked legal world that they were in control of the federal appeals process . . . so everyone might as well shut up and simply admire their abuse of power.

FOIA REQUEST: PATENT OFFICE INVOKES EXECUTIVE PRIVILEGE

Leader v. Facebook

"The Great Patent Office Payoff"

On March 12, 2013, the U.S. Patent Office claimed "executive communication privilege" in blocking disclosure of Freedom of Information Act documents requested by a U.S. citizen. Here is our April 15 update on the FOIA request - The Real Facebook, A Portrait of Corruption. With the invocation of executive privilege, President Obama signaled that he had interfered himself in the Leader v. Facebook case.

Are we going to find out that Obama instructed the Patent Office to ignore well-settled legal precedent? That would be the same logic he used to instruct Attorney General Eric Holder not to enforce the Defense of Marriage Act.

Facebook's Cooley attorneys are tied at the hip to Obama. Obama uses Facebook to communicate daily with 47 million followers. Facebook makes millions from advertising on the Obama fan pages. Facebook's Cooley attorneys have been beneficiaries of Obama's "green energy" stimulus funds. It now seems that Cooley may have even helped dispense Obama's "green" in collusion with McBee Strategic.

IS COOLEY GODWARD LLP RUNNING THE WHITE HOUSE?

- this Moscow company, Digital Sky Technologies, aka DST, aka Mail.ru)
- 105. Jeff Markey (McBee Strategic LLC; allied with Facebook's Cooley Godward Kronish LLP to arrange Obama's green energy funding; arranged $1.6 billion for failed BrightSource and $535 million for failed Solyndra)
- 106. Steve McBee (McBee Strategic LLC; allied with Facebook's Cooley Godward Kronish LLP to arrange Obama's green energy funding; arranged $1.6 billion for failed BrightSource and $535 million for failed Solyndra)

- 108. Bryan J. Rose (Stroz Friedberg; Facebook forensic expert who lied about his knowledge of the contents of the 28 Zuckerberg hard drives and Harvard Email accounts)
- 109. Dr. Saul Greenberg (Facebook's expert witness from the University of Calgary; disingenuously waived his hands and said he would be "wild guessing" about the purpose of a Java "sessionstate" import statement (even Java newbies know it is used for tracking a user while in a web session); in short, Dr. Greeberg lied to the jury, thus discrediting his testimony)
- 110. Toni Townes-Whitley (CGI Federal; Michelle Obama's 1985 Princeton classmate; CGI "donated" $47 million to the Obama campaign; CGI won the no-bid contract to build the www.healthcare.gov Obamacare website; CGI shut off the security features on Obama's reelection donation sites to increase donations)
- 111. CGI Federal (US division of a Canadian company; Donated $47 million to Obama's reelection, then received the no-bid contract to build the ill-fated Obamacare website; Michelle Obama's Princeton classmate, Toni Townes-Whitley, is a Senior Vice President of CGI; the website is replete with social features and links to Facebook)
- 112. Kathleen Sebelius (Obama's Secretary of Health & Human Services since 2009 responsible for $678 million Obamacare implementation; made the decision to hire CGI Federal on a no-bid contract despite the evident conflict of interest with Michelle Obama and $47 million in Obama campaign donations by CGI; the website is replete with social features and links to Facebook)
- 113. Todd Y. Park (White House Chief Technology Officer (CTO); former CTO for Health & Human Services; chief architect of HealthCare.gov; founder,

As this new Justice Department and Patent Office scandal emerges, will the combined scandals bring down this administration?

Q: How many Cooley Godward Kronish LLP attorneys does it take to become a kind of mob counsel (consigliere)[28] to the Obama Administration?

A. At least 64, apparently.

Will the mainstream media finally wake up to the charades and manipulation of the press by some very corrupt power mongers?

Drip, drip, drip.

Stay vigilant. Let's keep pulling on the strings of this scandal until we unravel it. In this post, we have given you more names to add to your corruption watch list.

NPR / The Two-Way) SALES OF ORWELL'S 1984 SPIKE AFTER NSA REVELATIONS

As of Tuesday morning, Amazon sales of George Orwell's Dystopian novel 1984 had jumped 6,021 percent in just 24 hours, to No. 213 on Amazon's bestseller list. As NPR's Alan Greenblatt recently pointed out, many people have found uncomfortable resonances between Orwell's "Big Brother" state and the news that broke last week of U.S. government surveillance programs.

I am reminded that this is exactly what Mike McKibben, Al Stern and Professor Hy Berman warned of:

MORE FROM THE FACEBOOK MINISTRY OF DISINFORMATION

Just ran across this article in our SF Biz Times this morning.

<http://www.bizjournals.com/sanfrancisco/blog/2012/02/facebook-likes-fenwick-for-ipo.html>

The article about Gordon K. Davidson and Fenwick & West LLP says "Fenwick has a history with Facebook, having handled the social media company's corporate work since 2007."

Well we know now that is misdirection since (a) Fenwick has been representing James W. Breyer and Accel Partners/KKR since the late 1990's--the puppet masters, (b) Fenwick represented Leader Technologies in 2002-2003 and had Leader's social media source code in their files according to the company, (c) Fenwick represented Marc Andreessen on two social patents he filed in 2005 which have been assigned to Facebook, and (d) the Fenwick attorney working on the Andreessen patents, Christopher P. King Reg. 60,985, was assigned to the Zuckerberg patents in early 2012, but changed his name to "Christopher-Charles King."

More lies and misdirection.

P.S. Don't worry, I made a PDF of the article just in case it mysteriously disappears from the web (as things seem to do out here on a daily basis; Silicon Valley should be renamed The Fourth Reich) and am emailing it to you now.

Hey folks, guess what I just discovered? Donald K. Stern, the Cooley attorney advising Obama just jumped ship on May 1, 2013 and landed at some little Podunk law firm in Boston where he is "of counsel" which means he's not even a partner! That's just about the time AFI first identified Stern as a player in this scandal. Why would he leave Washington where he is advising the President on Justice Department policy, and go to a dinky little firm that doesn't even have a proper website, if there is not something wrong? I think we know what's wrong 8-0

Are Stern's and Cooley's chickens coming home to Washington and smelling the place up? LOL.

Just discovered that AMBER H. ROVNER of WEIL GOTTSCHAL LLP has recently changed her name to "AMBER L. HAGY." So, she is listed in various legal filings over the last decade at:

1. AMBER L. NAGY (current)
2. AMBER H. ROVNER (Leader v. Facebook and Microsoft filings)
3. AMBER HATFIELD (Zoominfo)

Zoominfo also has her listed as an attorney for Thompson & Knight LLP.

Is anybody else starting to twitch? This is shades of Fenwick & West's attorney Christopher P. King changing his name to Christopher-Charles King especially for Facebook. Did these people lose their birth certificates? ... no, I won't go there.

AMBER H. ROVNER (aka AMBER L. NAGY aka AMBER HATFIELD) and EDWARD R. REINES were hired by the Federal Circuit Bar Association to file the motion to absolve the judges of conflicts in Leader v. Facebook. They withdrew it after Dr. Lakshmi Arunachalam's blistering response where she took them to the woodshed over ethics. Then, Jan Horbaly didn't docket the FCBA's motion or Dr. A's response. But, here it is thanks to the AFI community:

<http://www.scribd.com/doc/106156081/Response-to-Request-of-Federal-Circuit-Bar-Association-s-Request-for-Reissue-Re-Leader-v-Facebook-Case-No-2011-1366-Fed-Cir-by-Lakshmi-Arunach#page=30>

Also remember that WEIL GOTTSCHAL LLP is JUDGE KIMBERLY A MOORE'S former client (hmmm, she didn't disclose that either).

AMBER H. ROVNER aka AMBER HATFIELD aka AMBER L. NAGY is a big company woman. She represents Microsoft, Samsung, 3M, Intel, Rockwell, Ericksen... all big infringers with lots of money to buy off judges.

AMBER ROVNER/HATFIELD/HAGY appears to be a big money lawyer-goat. Judging from her names changes, apparently she was married to her work. I gotta ask, how does someone acquire a DIFFERENT MIDDLE INITIAL all of a sudden? Trying to avoid investigation search engines?

Really?

This woman was counsel on a single amicus brief that was denied a few days after being filed. That's the extent of her involvement in this case and yet you think that she has now changed her name to avoid search engines? And her former name appears right there on her Weil profile? Yes, that makes perfect sense.

And you really think that Mr. Stern has ever even heard of Leader? He's leaving Cooley in order to hide from this blog? Unbelievable. A more reasonable explanation may be that he has made his millions and is now ready for a more low key, easy lifestyle where he doesn't have to bill 3,000 hours per year. The idea that his move (announced publicly) has anything to do with Leader is really delusional.

K. Craine June 18, 2013 at 6:16 AM

Yawn. Corrupt people always make such haughty comments and label those who expose them as "delusional." That way they can avoid the hard, cold, condemning FACTS.

Your knowledge of the supposed true motives of all these people is uncanny.

Sigh. This last comment is once again full of misinformation.

Amber is not hiding anything. She recent got married. In fact, look at her official Weil profile. It actually lists, right there on the page, her former name. <http://www.weil.com/AmberHagy/>. So much for the grand conspiracy theory.

The federal circuit bar association never withdrew its motion. In fact, if you look at the actual docket, you will see that the federal circuit DENIED the motion very shortly after it was filed. And yes, this is the same panel that included Judge Moore, who was supposedly conflicted. And this motion came months after the federal circuit denied Leader's appeal, and was the first time that Weil Gotschal ever appeared in this action. So exactly how was there a conflict??

Here is the actual docket entry from the federal circuit. And all of Dr. A's motions are also listed on the docket. The federal circuit only provides electronic access to the official case caption, entries of appearance, and certificates of interest. No other documents are posted electronically, so the fact that Dr. A's motions are not online is nothing unusual. In fact, it would be bizarre if they WERE online.

The fact that this blog keeps claiming that the clerk of the court failed to docket entries is really just disgusting. The official case docket reflects every single filing, including all of Dr. A's briefs. Why are those briefs not online? Because that is how the Federal Circuit's system is set up. Check any case. Virtually none of the filings are online. I really wish this blog could express opinions that are actually grounded in truth.

Wrong, John!

I , personally, talked on the telephone with a Ms. Valerie White in the Clerk's office, asking about these such docket filings (as well as FOIA requests on the judges' public holdings info). She assured me that she knew nothing, couldn't find any mention of them electronically or on paper.

And when she said that it was odd, she wanted to look into it and get back with me; she mysteriously disappeared from her post the next day; I guess she was out of the loop.

But you could always ask for your FB/NSA buds to pull the phone records if you feel so inclined to verify these facts.

John Craven aka Federal Circuit Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly is doing more damage control for his corrupt practices. He says "Why are those briefs not online? Because that is how the Federal Circuit's system is set up. Check any case. Virtually none of the filings are online. I really wish this blog could express opinions that are actually grounded in truth."

The law says clerks should go to jail for censoring dockets. Notice the tricky wording? He is splitting hairs between the docket and the underlying pleading that gave rise to the clerk entry... which should INCLUDE the actual pleading. He is admitting here that he censors dockets in other cases too! Amazing that the Monarch in Chief at the Federal Circuit has so twisted the rules that he can randomly decide when a litigant's pleadings should and shouldn't be made available. This is the definition of corruption.

He thinks he's above the law.

Rain Onyourparade June 18, 2013 at 6:50 AM

Perhaps non-lawyers would miss this, but there is an astounding admission by Craven/Horbaly here. He says that Rover-Hatfield-Nagy did file the motion on behalf of the Federal Circuit Bar Association. THE LAW REQUIRED HER TO ENTER AN APPEARANCE WITH THE COURT ON AN AMICUS BRIEF. There is no public record on the docket of her appearance. Also, Horbaly admits the court denied it within days. Again, how is it possible that such a denial could occur so quickly? The judges would not have had time to get it, much less review and conference on it. Craven/Horbaly is hoping that no one will notice that he censored the docket here. Isn't it convveeeenient, as the Church Lady says, that Rovner changed her name to avoid detection by search engines. The re-marriage excuse just gives plausible deniability. Why she changed her name is irrelevant.

The fact that she did it to help out Craven/Horbaly and that it so conveniently hides the Rovner association with Weil Gotschal and Judge Kimberly A. Moore is the interesting conduct. They're worried about this. Let's keep digging.

He also wants non-lawyers to think that the fact that Leader was denied is somehow relevant, which it isn't if they were still in the window period for filing a response. The case was still active, despite the whitewash. It is laughable that they want honest people to follow the rules while they play their crooked games.

Again Craven/Horbaly are hoping to confuse the public with their rules of procedure games. Not this time boys and girls. We're on to your tricky shit lawyer games. Excuse the French.

Horbaly is running a protection racket at the Federal Circuit court of appeals in my opinion.

BTW. The way Horbaly has the Federal Circuit docket set up, he can slip in changes to entries at will. We'll probably see all this magically appear now that he is exposed. I have certified records of the earlier censored dockets. House investigators should start by deposing the Federal Circuit staff.

Ego-driven lawyers like Donald K. Stern (I know I am being redundant) don't leave the power centers of Washington mid-term for the wilds of a Podunk Boston law firm where he doesn't even get designated partner (he's only Of Counsel which is short for We-Have-Issues-But-Are-Willing-To-Give-It-A-Try), unless something is wrong. What's the problem that a Podunk Boston firm is worried about designating a former Cooley advisor to Obama on the Justice Department as a partner in their little firm? Under normal circumstances, he'd be big man on campus. High ego people like that don't hunker down in the rear seat unless they're hiding from the law.

That doesn't pass the smell test.

The very first time that this blog mentioned Donald Stern was in June. He left Cooley over a month earlier on May 1, 2013. So tell me how exactly anything here had the remotest thing to do with him? And likewise explain why he would very PUBLICLY announce the move. One who is seeking to get out of the spotlight and avoid implication does not do such a thing.

The same is true for Ms. Hagy. You claim that she changed her name to avoid search engines. And yet her official Weil profile has her old name right there on the same page. It makes absolutely no sense whatsoever if she were actually trying to do what you accuse her of.

And let me clarify one last thing. You claim that because documents are not online that this is evidence of censoring. Absolutely false. Most federal courts do not make documents available online. You have to go to the court, pay a copying fee, and get the documents from the court directly. All of the documents in this case are available in this fashion. Nothing has been censored, destroyed, concealed, etc. so all of this conversation about clerk Horably acting improperly is just nonsense. Go to the court, request the documents, and then report back if you still think something sinister is afoot.

And one more. This blog continuously claims that Facebook claimed that all of Zuckerberg's computers/ hard drives were lost. Where is there a piece of discovery that claims this? Or a single letter from Facebook's attorneys to this effect? It doesn't exist. There has never been a shred of evidence to support that claim. Additionally, the deposition testimony does not establish any type of timeline for the 28 hard drives. This is just more innuendo from the Leader crowd.

If you have all this supposed access to the court record in this case, then why haven't you produced one single bit of information to backup anything you claim? You're fishing and the fish aren't biting. Blather on.

This Craven guy is expecting us to correct him every time he lies to see if he can slip in a lie now and then. The timeline on the hard drives is a tellingly misleading comment. Of course there is a timeline, those drives predate the ConnectU Winklevoss Twins trade secrets case circa 2005.

O Valerie, Valerie, wherefore art thou Valerie?

steve n amy are of course referring to a Federal Circuit (Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly) staffer named Valerie White. Steve called the Clerk's published number to inquire why none of Dr. Lakshmi Arunachalam's amicus curiae briefs (Latin for Friend of the Court) in support of Leader Technologies and opposing the evident judge bias had been acknowledged and posted on the court docket by the Clerk. This came after the court denied Dr. Arunachalam's motion within hours of receiving it (the same day).

Ms. White expressed surprise at the information and said there was no record of having received any motions or briefs from Dr. Arunachalam. When Steve produced Express Mail delivery receipts as proof, Ms. White said something was amiss and would get back to him. When Steve followed up the next morning, Ms. White's phone extension no longer worked and no one knew the new extension. In short, Ms. Valerie White had been muzzled.

Since the Federal Circuit office is not large, one can reasonably surmise that Clerk of Court Jan Horbaly did the muzzling of his employee who was evidently not part of the Facebook inner circle.

I don't understand this. If Leader had this technology 10 years ago, why didn't it just launch a competitor to Facebook? I am looking at their patent and at Facebook and they look like completely different things.

There has still never been any evidence that Facebook ever took the position that any hard drives were lost. I have just never seen a shred of evidence to support that accusation. If Facebook actually made such a claim, there would be a motion to compel, correspondence from Facebook attorneys, court documents, etc.

The fish still aren't biting John and Derek. The two of you have still not produced one fact to support Facebook. You are either ignorant, naive, or one of them. You keep trying to change the argument. It's what bad guys do. The Facebook crowd is nothing but a bunch of crooks. Crooks cannot produce evidence to defend their crookedness (unless they fabricate some and buy off judges to accept it, which is what you have done), and you aren't producing any either. What does that make you as a defender of this crookedness, if you are not simply one of them?

Again, I hate to have to throw cold water here but that is my burden. It has been well over a year. This matter is truly over. Right or wrong, it is done. There is peace in moving on, and joy in forgiveness. It is time.

Darren July 8, 2013 at 8:03 AM

Since you now admit to Facebook cabal's thievery and the misdeeds of the others, by wanting forgiveness, you are on the way to recovery. Your next step is to step forward and tell the whole truth to the authorities. Your burden of lies and misdeeds will be lifted and you will feel free! However, I am not sure you are quite ready. There is still more truth that is coming out and you have another lawsuit on your hands. I guess it really is so easy to copy someone else's work!

I'm sorry but you have misinterpreted my comment. I have absolutely no affiliation with Facebook and I am not seeking anything. My suggestion is one of practicality. This matter has been over for over a year. It is done, simply. I have no dog in this hunt but am simply looking at it as a practical third party. The court angle is done. Congress is never going to touch something as small as this. That's just the end of the road. I know it stings but that really is the reality of the situation. Life may be unfair at times. I have no idea if that is the case here. But procedurally, there is nowhere left for this to go. The sooner you come to grips with that, the sooner the healing process can begin.

Mr. Craven, are we really to believe that you have no affiliation with Facebook (whatsoever)? That you are simply looking at it from a "practicality" standpoint? You, sir, play the role of Pontius Pilate quite well.

If you have no ties with Facebook, then why, sir, do you possess knowledge that only a Facebook insider might possess. How is it that someone who could care less (except from a practicality standpoint) have facts and figures that would take a bystander some time to go research? And why is it, sir, that from a practicality standpoint, you have nothing but negative things to say to the people who are truly trying to fight this "small" thing, as you refer to it as.

You, Prefect, may wash your hands of Facebook condescension. You may not "have a dog in this hunt"; I don't know.

But this, sir, I do know; with no dog in this hunt, you seem to troll these woods quite frequently. And this, too, I know...when Pilate washed his hands, and condemned Christ, even Barabbas eventually saw himself for who he was and repented.

A set of dirty knees is nothing to be ashamed of, John.

In fact, one might say that it is "quite practical".
