About the Archive

This is a digitized version of an article from The Times's print archive, before the start of online publication in 1996. To preserve these articles as they originally appeared, The Times does not alter, edit or update them.

Occasionally the digitization process introduces transcription errors or other problems. Please send reports of such problems to archive_feedback@nytimes.com.

Jeannie Hae Rhee, the daughter of B. H. and Kay S. Rhee of Eden Prairie, Minn., was married yesterday to Christopher Marc Sclafani, a son of Joan and Dr. Anthony Sclafani of Brooklyn. The Rev. Dennis P. Murphy performed the ceremony at Heinz Memorial Chapel in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Sclafani Rhee, both 23, met at Yale University, where they graduated summa cum laude and were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. They are students at Yale Law School.

The bride's father is a vice president of General Electric Capital Fleet Services in Eden Prairie. Her mother is an owner of Shogun, a Japanese restaurant in Pittsburgh.

The bridegroom's mother is an associate administrator at the Brookdale Hospital Medical Center in Brooklyn. His father is a Distinguished Professor of Psychology at Brooklyn College.

A version of this article appears in print on August 27, 1995, on Page 1001046 of the National edition with the headline: WEDDINGS; J. H. Rhee, C. M. Sclafani.
