

STUDENTS FACULTY STAFF ALUMNI & GIVING EVENTS

Columbia Law School Search

Admissions Academics & Courses Faculty Research & Scholarship Careers About News

Daniel Richman

Paul J. Kellner Professor of Law

Daniel C. Richman is the Paul J. Kellner Professor of Law at Columbia Law School.

Richman is a former federal prosecutor who served as chief appellate attorney in the U.S. Attorney's Office for the Southern District of New York, and has served as a consultant to the Department of Justice and the Department of the Treasury on federal criminal matters. Richman was the Brendan Moore Professor in Advocacy at Fordham Law School before joining Columbia Law School's faculty. In 2004, Richman was appointed by New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg as chairman of the Local Conditional Release Commission. He is currently an adviser to FBI Director James B. Comey.

Richman's scholarly writings include more than 30 law review articles. He has offered testimony as an expert in a number of congressional hearings, and state, federal, and international criminal and civil matters.

READ LESS

Office Location

Jerome Greene Hall
Room 918
435 West 116th Street
New York, NY 10027

Contact Info

Tel: 212-854-9370
drichm@law.columbia.edu

Assistant Info

Anna Krauthamer
212-854-4209
ak4035@columbia.edu

Education

- J.D., Yale University, 1984
- A.B., Harvard University, 1980

Areas of Expertise

- Criminal procedure, adjudication
- Evidence
- Federal criminal law

Courses

- Criminal Adjudication
- Evidence
- Federal Criminal Law
- S. Sentencing